CUSTOMER- Voylla.com

Voylla offers a wide range of designer jewellery & accessories for women, men & kids. Voylla is the sole name in the minds of millions when it comes to affordable, exclusive, standout jewelry pieces starring in a sumptuous & smooth shopping experience.

Over 500,000 customers have patronized Voylla.com, making the top jewelry site in India and across Asia.

Voylla coined from the French word, 'Voila!' meaning to suggest an appearance like its magic, the company envisions "whenever someone wears Voylla's jewelry, it becomes a magical moment for them"

Mr. Vishwas Shringi, Founder and CEO.

→ THE CHALLENGE

- Rising customer attrition
- Plummeting customer engagement
- Diminishing revenue from email marketing

→ THE SOLUTION

User engagement & disengagement data points from prior email campaigns were collated, analyzed & custom audiences were targeted with highly precise, one-o-one cross custom email promotional communications.

Predictive product recommendations were initiated across specific customer segments via the powerful predictive intelligent recommendations of cMercury.

THE APPROACH

Data segmentation & clustering

Broad level customer email database bucketing initiated:

- Recently active email base customers on specific product categories precisely clustered based on keywords etc.
- All unsubscribed customers from Voylla's email programs specifically sub segmented based to prior categories targeted.
- Recently transacted customer across specific categories/ product groups.

As a marketer if you truly believe in the power of email marketing, you should be smart enough to believe & act on every response of your list; either could be click, an unsubscription or a spam complaint even

....who has been gracious enough to share you her email address with your brand
